Firestone Faith

The Firestone ideas of motoring are founded on a belief in the wisdom and common sense of the motorist—and this faith has been justified.

Firestone success has proven that the car owner wants safety, comfort and Most Miles per Dollar. He wants the quality that costs less to use. The Non-Skid lettering is an imprint of safety. You need it always—but particularly at this time of year. It holds the standard for endurance and economy. The letters prevent spin or skid in any direction, they radiate the heat of road friction, insure perfect traction with gasoline economy, car-protection and maximum comfort. Everywhere experienced motorists praise Firestone performance.

FIVE CENT AUTO SERVICE PROMISED

The prospects are exceptionally bright for a five cent auto service for the residents of Redwood Highlands and Wellesley Park.

During a conference between officials of the Peninsula Rapid Transit Company and the directors of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce held Saturday, Secretary McGettigan suggested to W. H. Pearson, president of the transit company, that the latter's lines be diverted, so as to include the Wellesley Park and Highlands territory.

Secretary McGettigan's idea was to have the busses on the south bound trip enter Wellesley Park from the highway, run up Edgewood Road as far as the John-Britton place, cross straight over to the Highlands until Hopkins avenue was reached, down Hopkins avenue to Broadway and enter the city by way of the latter street. The north bound trip of the auto busses would cover the same territory, only reversing the route.

Secretary McGettigan's suggestion met with hearty favor with President Pearson and Director Berg and they promised to take the matter up at once with the other directors of the company.

The officials of the transit company also promised the Chamber of Commerce directors, that as soon as Broadway between the Southern Pacific right of way and county road, also a strip of roadway near Wellesley Park, were completed they would put on half-hour service between San Mateo and Palo Alto. The company is now operating an hourly service.

CHARLES LANDSCHEIT TALKS TO HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Monday morning Mr. Landscheit of the Redwood City Realty Company gave the second talk of the series before the student body and spoke quite earnestly concerning the business with which he is identified. He was listened to very attentively by the members of the body.

The Reading Club of senior classes met at Miss Wilkins' and spent a pleasant evening. They are reading The Monastery by Scott, and incidentally do some of their sewing. Next Monday they will meet with Thelma Knox.

The girls of the school are about to form a dramatic club under the supervision of the Misses Galpin and Hunt of Stanford University. Unusual interest was shown by the number of girls who came out at the first call and the future looks very promising for the club. A oommittee is now at work to determine just what is to be done.

One form of athletic activity which has been advocated by the California Interscholastic Federation is what is known as whole school and whole class meets. Some of the boys of the school are already preparing to take part. Each school runs its own events under the supervision of a teacher and then reports are sent into headquarters.

JOLLY CROWD CELEBRATES DAN FLYNN'S BIRTHDAY

Sunday morning twenty-five of Dan Flynn's friends motored to the foot hills in back of the Holberton property and celebrated the anniversary of his birthday.

While Clarence Hayward was instructing Joe Perry, Carl Muller and Ole Johnson how to properly barbecue meat, Andy Walsh gave an exhibition of trick shooting with a 22 rifle. From what those present could learn, the trick was to aim the rifle right at dead center and then miss the target entirely. Anyway if that was the trick Andy had it down pat.

The afternoon was devoted to cards and blue rock shooting. In the pigeon shot Danny Flynn of San Francisco and Ernest Werder had the high scores for the day, while Guy Hull, who was anounced as the pride of San Carlos and who was the pick of the crowd as the best shot, came with the low score, one break out of ten.

Buell Moody and some other boys had a foot race, Moody was in race form and had no trouble in beating John Eschenbacher's little boy. Mayer Simmen, Henry Hagen, Harry Pinkham and Postmaster Burns, all of San Mateo, arrived just in time for the four o'clock lunch.

Mr. Flynn was presented with a very handsome cut glass set, A. D. Walsh making the presentation speech.

The following were present: A. D. Walsh, J. Johnson, Joe Perry, Dan Flynn, E. Werder, W. Lipp, D. Molneaux, F. Zimmerman, Joe Dickey, J. MacBain, Carl Muller, Guy Hull, H. Steinberger, Bill Barg, J. V. Neuman, Geo. Stafford, Sid Dalve, Joe Hahir, C. D. Hayward, Mike Sheehan, B. Moody, Leslie Johnston from Santa Cruz, Dan Flynn, H. G. Muller, and Harry Meyer from San Francisco.

The remains were shipped to San Francisco where services were held Tuesday from the chapel of Julius S. Ccdeau. The interment was in Mount Olivet cemetery.

REPUBLICAN REHABILITATION

The election returns from the east point to the disintegration of the Progressive paarty and the rehabilitation of the Republican organization. The trouble with the Progressives not so much with their principles as that the party, from its conception, was "personally Conducted," as it were, by Theodore Roosevelt and a few choice spirits who have mistaken novelty for reform. Experience has proved the folly of placing the affairs of the nation or the state in the hands of enthusiasts whose knowledge of the functions of government is limited, and whose ideas of reform are crude and impracticable.

The Progressives, like the Populists, adopted for their battle cry the catchy slogan, "Let the People Rule," implying that before the new political dispensation the people never had ruled. As a matter of fact, the people have always had the privilege of ruling. If they failed to exercise that privilege that was their own fault, and they suffered for their neglect, as they deserved to suffer.

The neglect of the people, as a whole, to take an interest in party affairs was taken advantage of by designing politicians, who easily captured the machinery of their respective political organizations and shamelessly usurped the functions of the citizen for their own private ends.

The result was disaffection in the party ranks. Principles were sacrificed on the altar of personal ambition, and loyalty to party was shifted to the men who really managed the party and dispensed the patronage. Then came the mock reformer, with an eye to the main chance, who sought to rally the masses to his own particular standard and win them over to his own peculiar political beliefs. He was successful for a time, but being a politican first, before he was a reformer, he played the game of politics after the same old fashion and with the same stacked cards. The result was inevitable. The mock reformer was in turn repudiated. His freak schemes of govenment were ruthlessly abandoned and he himself was relegated to the political scrap pile.

This is the case in California today. It is the case in the nation at large. The people are alive to the necessity of doing their own thinking, rather than permitting self-constituted leaders do it for them. They are returning to their party allegiance, not as blind, unreasoning partisans, but as men who are willing to share the burden of government as well as the patronage of office. They realize that they alone are responsible for the partial failure of representative government, because of their neglect of the common duties of citizenship.

The Republican party is once more coming into its own; but to insure its success it must give to its members the fullest freedom of debate, and its conventions must deal with live issues that have a direct bearing upon the prosperity of the people and the perpetuation of the government. With conventions composed of honest delegates, elected fairly, there are but few differences of opinion on public affairs that cannot be settled satisfactorily on a basis of the greatest good to the greatest number.

"PUNCH BOARDS"

It has come to my attention that numerous so-called "Punch Boards" are being distributed over San Mateo County. Such boards as they are described to me are in violation of section 330A of the Penal Code Young boys are rather generally taking chances on these boards, and I find that a few persons running these boards have devised a scheme of selling chances on money.

In one portion of the county the introduction of the "Punch Board" has given rise to an effort to reinstate the slot machine. As a result it becomes imperative that the so-called "Punch Boards" be removed from the county at once.

Pesons having "Punch Boards" or similar devices in their possession after December 1, 1915, will subject themselves to arrest.

FRANKLIN SWART,
District Attorney.

How to Tell a Fresh Egg

If an egg is "strictly fresh" it will, when placed in a pan of water, lie on its side on the bottom. If stale it will stand on end, and if very old will rise to the surface. When just a few days' old the egg will begin to tilt a trifle, and as it ages more and more the angle of which it tilts will increase.

Menlo Parlor, N. S. G. W., will give a pre-holiday ball in Duff and Doyle's Hall on Friday evening, December 10. Copeland and Manaton's orchestra of Palo Alto has been engaged to furnish music. All the members are putting forth strenuous efforts to make the affair the big event of the year.

The members of Menlo Park Horticultural Society enjoyed a delightful banquet in Duff and Doyle's Hall last Saturday evening. About fifty guests were present including prominent florists of San Francisco and horticulturalists about the bay. At the banquet the cups won at the recent flower show were formally presented to the winners. Speeching was the order of the hour and oratory flowed like the sparkling wine at the festive board. The affair was declared the most enjoyable one in the history of the society.

The Railroad Commission yesterday adjusted the rates to be charged for water by the Bear Gulch Water Company, which serves Menlo Park and which is controlled by the University of California. The new rates go into effect within thirty days and reduce the flat rate for unmetered service from $2 to $1.50. The metered charges are rearranged so as to be distributed among the different classes of consumers more equitably. It is understood the meter charge will be 24 cents per thousand gallons instead of 25 cents as heretofore. Mr. Harkins and Mr. John Billesback, who represented the people at a meeting before the commission last summer, are to be thanked for the much needed reduction.

Menlo Parlor, N. S. G. W. presented the Las Lomitas grammar school with a Bear Flag Wednesday afternoon. The teachers at the school, Miss Cross and Miss Bertha Kuck prepared a neat program for the occasion and it was carried out without a hitch, the pupils showing the result of their many rehearsals. Harry B. Morey, president of Menlo Parlor, made the presentation speech giving a vivid history of the Bear Flag and telling eloquently what it meant for the state. Young Sharp, son of Dr. and Mrs. James Sharp, accepted the flag in behalf of the school. In a manly way he spoke of the value of the precious gift and assured his hearers that it would always be cherished by the pupils of Las Lomitas school. The speech was much applauded. The flag was raised by Young Peterson, son of Oscar Peterson of Atherton. The school has a membership of 70 pupils.

Mrs. Silas Palmer, daughter of Charles Holbrook, has recently presented several stained-glass windows to Trinity Episcopal Church. Mrs. Palmer has been a member of the congregation for a number of years.

Miss Elena Eyre, the pretty daughter of P. P. Eyre, is receiving honors since her debut last week. She is being feted by society in San Francisco and the peninsula which shows the popularity of the young debutante. Miss Eyre was the motif of a very elaborate dinner given by her friend, Miss Beatrice Nickel at her San Francisco home last Wednesday, November 17. Twenty-two young people were present to do honor to Miss Eyre. She will be given a dinner on December 10th by Mr. and Mrs. James L. Flood at their new residence in the city. The affair will be the formal opening of the mansion. The dinner is to be the biggest society event of the season.

The attractive home of Mrs. John F. Merrill at Atherton was the scene of a pretty wedding at noon on Thursday when her beautiful daughter, Mrs. Ruth Merrill Hammond, became the bride of William Devereux, the clubman and polo player. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Aked of San Francisco. Severay hundred guests motored down from San Francisco to be present at the ceremony. The color scheme of pink and gold was carried out with masses of chrysanthemums, and the same note on the bride's table was seen in the empire decoration of deep pink roses and gold ribbons. Mrs. Devereux, who is one of the beauties of society, never looked more charming than in her bridal robe of dull gold satin, veiled in gold lace, the richness of the gown accentuated through its trimming of dark brown fur. Gold lace and brown fur also formed the modish hat, and the bride carried a bouquet of orchids. Mrs. Merrill gave her daughter into the keeping of the bridegroom. The young couple are spending their honeymoon at Pebble Beach Lodge, Monterey.

WILLIAM McLELLAN STABBED TO DEATH AT LA HONDA

Greek Accused of Crime to Have Preliminary Hearing Next Week

It is reported that Attorney Joseph J. Bullock has been retained by relations of the Greek accused of the murder of William McLellan to defend him before the superior court. The defendant's brother and a representative from the Greek Bank of San Francisco were in consultation with Attorney Bullock early in the week negotiating for his defense. The Greek shows evidence of having received a severe beating.

William McLellan was stabbed to death by John Giollas on the old Steinberg ranch at La Honda late last Friday night. McLellan attempted to drive the Greek off the ranch when the tragedy occurred. A coroner's jury was held on Monday by Dr. Brooke. The Greek will have his preliminary examination next week.

James Ferris Fitch, a former old time resident of this city, passed away on Wednesday last at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Elder of Berkeley. The deceased resided here in the eighties, leaving here for Fresno in 1883 after disposing of his large hardware business. While here he was a prominent member of the Congregational church. Two hours after he had passed away a telephone message was received announcing the death of his brother's wife, Mrs. John Fitch of Los Gatos. She was the mother of Attorney J. R. Fitch and Mrs. E. A. John Isaac

John Isaac, the pioneer newspaperman and a resident of San Mateo for nearly a quarter of a century, passed away at his home in Wellesley Park from a complication of diseases last Saturday. He had been sick for about a month. Mr. Isaac was a selfmade man in the strictest sense of the word. He was born in England and at a very early age he mastered the printer's trade. At the age of fifteen he went to Canada where he pursued his trade with success, coming some years later to California. Mr. Isaac founded the San Bernardino Times which he conducted with success for several years and afterwards conducted the Salt Lake Tribune for nineteen years. He was employed on the old Alta of San Francisco and on the Chronicle and Examiner at various times as reporter and special writer. At one time Mr. Isaac was horticultural commissioner for San Mateo County. For fourteen years he was a member of the Horticultural Commission at Sacramento. The deceased was 68 years of age. He is survived by a widow and one son, John Isaac, who is attending the local high school. The following poem is dedicated to his memory:

In Memory of John Isaac

A devoted father, a loving husband and a true friend.

He is not dead, dear hearts, sink not so low,
T'is but the resurrection, and the life,
He has been shown the way we all must go,
When we are called to cease this earthly strife.
This life is but a single day to seek and find our Father's love,
This form is but a house of clay, to make or mar our lives above,
If all who dwell upon this earthly sphere,
Would emulate his mode of life below,
And hold with him, that all mankind are dear,
And scatter seeds of truth wher'ere they go.
The still small voice would penetrate each soul,
Then, hate would die and love spring into life,
Then brotherhood of man would be the goal,
God's light shine everywhere, and end all strife.
He sleeps at eve, at morn a higher birth,
Awaits the loving father, husband, friend,
In touch with God he lived while on the earth,
In loving arms he fell asleep when came the end,
Oh send him tender thoughts, but do not grieve,
His soul pursues the path our Savior led,
If we but imitate his life, in Christ believe,
We'll meet upon a higher plane,

He is not dead.

Martha Penman.

Interesting Notes Picked Up By Hustling Reporters in the Country Districts

Woodside Gleanings

The Associated Oil Company has established a supply station in Woodside.

Miss Clara Jenkins of San Francisco is spending a few days in Woodside. She was formerly the assistant postmaster here.

Grover Neuman has disposed of his interest in the Neuman Brothers corporation and with his family has moved to Santa Clara County. Grover is a popular young man and he carries the best wishes of the people of Woodside to his new home.

Supervisor John MacBain is macadamizing and surfacing Marimontez avenue in Portola Park. This avenue is included in the new rural delivery route. The government urged that the thoroughfare be repaired in order to continue the delivery of mail during the winter season.

Coastside Gleanings

James Willison has shipped his steam shovel to Waterford, California, near where he has a contract building a large concrete ditch. James Warren, his engineer, is also leaving at the same time.

The Halfmoon Bay Choral Society was duly organized last Monday evening. A large number of enthusiastic song-lovers met in Pillar Hall at that time. The meeting was called to order by Professor W. T. Walton, who then explained the aim and purpose of the organization about to be formed.

Miss Mary Plecarpo of Halfmoon Bay and Manuel Quadro of Pescadero were married in the local Catholic church by Father Andriano on Nov. 17th. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Machado of Pescadero. The bride was beautifully gowned in white silk, veil and wreath and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Mrs Rose Quadro, the mother of the groom, was present at the ceremony.

It is reported that a mine of great value has been discovered in the hills back of South Granada and that the Ocean Shore Railroad Company has been ordered to run a spur tract to the same. This mine, they say, has lots of paying ore—what kind, we have been unable to find out—and will ship it to a smelter near San Francisco. It is also said that a large force of men will be given employment at once.

Norma, the little daughter of Supervisor and Mrs. Joseph M. Francis was 12 years old on Wednesday of last week and she gave her friends a very pleasant birthday party. They spent the evening with music, dancing and singing. Choice refreshments were served. The table was prettily decorated. In view of the nearness of Thanksgiving the favors were shaped like small turkeys. Needless to say the guests enjoyed themselves immensely.

FINE WEATHER FAVORABLE TO IMPROVING HIGHLANDS

George H. Irving Company Very Busy With Street Improvements

The continuance of good weather for the last few weeks has enabled the George H. Irving company to carry out a large part of its plans to pave the streets in the southerly part of the Redwood Highlands. Brewster avenue now looks like a metropolitan thoroughfare, the work of paving the broad street having almost been completed. Sidewalks have been laid on several of the intersecting streets, assuring safe and dry thoroughfares for the residents of the Highlands. The new lights ordered by the trustees have been installed, with the result that the civic needs of the fast growing highlands district have been reduced to a minimum.

Postal Inspector Madden, who laid out the mail delivery routes for the Highlands last March, made a tour of inspection a few days ago and was astonished by the growth. Since his visit in March, 58 new homes have been built in the Highlands and he informed Postmaster Swift that undoubtedly he would soon have a third carrier. "Just as soon as the street work is completed," said Madden, "you can safely recommend to the department that the service should be extended."

George H. Irving has announced that next year his building operations will double his efforts of this year, which means that at least 100 new homes will be built in the Highlands. "The Highlands," said Irving, "have just started to grow. We intend to open a most extensive advertising campaign just as soon as the wet weather is over, and I feel safe in predicting that before two years roll by Redwood will have a population of 5000. It is the fastest growing town in the West, and in the very near future will be the largest city between San Jose and San Francisco. It is the most talked of town in the bay district. We have brought as high as 200 persons here on Sunday and those that did not locate on the first trip are coming back."

Frank Pratt of Colma Dies

Frank Pratt, for many years a respected resident of Colma, passed away there on Monday, November 15. The deceased was 52 years of age and for the past fifteen years was a resident of Colma. He is survived by a wife and two children. Mr. Pratt was cashier of the Pacific Union Club of San Francisco for a long time and was held in high esteem by the members of that organization. Mr. Pratt was a man of high ideals, pure in character and held in high regard by all who knew him. The purity of his life and the nobleness of his character should serve as a guiding star to young men who wish to follow the example of an upright, honest man. Mr. Pratt was a prominent member of the Episcopal church at Colma.

KIDDIES ENJOY EXPOSITION VISIT

Fifty Youngsters With Their Six Teachers Enjoy Unto Trip to the Big Fair.

Mr. O'Keefe has asked me to write what I told him of our experiences last Saturday when we took 54 children on their first visit to the Exposition.

With ten machines generously donated for the occasion by Judge Buck, W. H. Chubbick, Walter Dreyfuss, Clarence Hayward, Jas. V. Neuman, Clark Rice, C. M. Doxsee, H. C. Tuchsen, Thos. Pennington and John MacBain and my own machine which made eleven in the line of March, we started at 8:40 and each youngster was given a bright new nickle with which to pay his admission. Just before we started Dr. Ross met me and gave me $2. and at noon time forty youngsters enjoyed an ice-cream cone at his expense. The ride was made without mishap. We went by way of the Sloate boulevard and when the little people saw the ocean their exclamations were worthy of publication. Not more than five or six of the whole crowd had ever seen the ocean and it was variously compared to soap-suds, and milk and cotton-batten. Then on the ride through the park they saw the buffalos for the first time, then came the trip through the Presidio with the big guns overlooking the Golden Gate and the bay, and when the Exposition came in sight we couldn't begin to answer the questions. After entering the grounds the children were taken in charge by the Misses Gertrude Beeger, Lulu Beeger, Florence Misner, Florence Holbrook, Louise Stevens and Edna Goulard. All of the youngsters were so awestruck that they stayed close to the teachers until nearly noon, then when we were in the Food Products Building one of the pupils was reported lost. We didn't know whether it was a boy or a girl but we knew that we were one short. We left all at the fish exhibit and started back over the course but didn't have to go far as our boy was found watching the rice as it is shot out of the gun. In the California Building Mr. Tuchsen's thoughtfulness was made manifest in the shape of a fine big apple for each pupil.

On the Marina the lunch was eaten between gasps of astonishment. First it was the little train of cars, then it was the hydroplane or the seagulls which came for the scraps or some other interesting sight which nearly took away the thought of hunger.

The afternoon itinerary took in the exhibit palace and the Canadian Building but by 2:30 the Zone was reached, and here the cup of happiness was filled to overflowing. Mr. Dryfuss had left a generous amount for entertainment of a number of the children as had also several of the others. Then Mr. Neuman was host to a party of twenty on a merry-go-round trip and Mr. Hayward played a like role at the Dog and Monkey show and I had the pleasure of taking them on the scenic railroad. The exclamations in four or five different languages and the gestures and explanations as each tried to tell the other of his feelings at the dips was wonderful to behold. Then we found that we were one girl short. It was time to start for home, too. A hurried call at the "Lost and Found Department" found our little girl very tearful under the kind care of the matron and she and the others were made happy by boxes of "Cracker-Jack."

At the gate where we met the rest of the party we learned that Francisco Molero, aged 8, was lost. He wasn't at the "Lost and Found Department," so all of the machines but our own were filled and started for home. With my little band of four boys and one teacher we started our search for Francisco. When seven o'clock came we were really worried and a general alarm was sent to all of the guards to be on the look out for a little boy with a red sweater, a green hat and brown corduroy breeches. At 8 o'clock we found him at the matron's office calmly munching a sandwich. When we asked him if he hadn't been frightened he told us that he knew we wouldn't go home without him. Later on one of the boys said that he was glad Francisco was lost as he had a chance to see the fireworks and the buildings lighted. Just before the large party started for home little Carmen, who had mothered two smaller girls during the day exclaimed, "Ain't it a shame that they are going to bust all these nice things down." As we left with our boys and stopped to look back I felt with little Carmen that it was a shame that they were to "bust all those nice things down."

In conclusion I want to publicly thank those who so generously helped. They gave a great deal of pleasure and happiness to a group of children who will appreciate what was done for them for a long, long time to come.

Superior Court Sustained

The District Court of Appeal at Sacramento on November 20th, decided the case of Carl Benson vs. Gerda Benson in favor of the defendant in every particular, sustaining Judge Buck's judgment on all points. This means that Mrs. Benson takes the custody of the three children and one-half of the community property and that Carl Benson, the father, must pay to Mrs. Benson, $45 a month for the support of the children, all as awarded her by the judgment of Judge Buck. The community property consists of two lots in the business center of Richmond, and a $4,000 dwelling house and the household furniture of the parties. This property is conservatively valued at $20,000. Mrs. Benson brought an action against her husband for divorce in the superior court of Contra Costa County in 1908, to which her husband filed a cross-complaint for divorce on the grounds of desertion. After the trial of this case, the court denied a divorce to either party and awarded the custody of the children and the possession of the community property and alimony to Mrs. Benson. The husband appealed this case to the district court of appeal which decided in 1912 that it was illegal for the court to give alimony or the custody of children or the possession of community property to the wife, inasmuch as it had denied a divorce. Attorney Harry Styles of South San Francisco represented Mrs. Benson in this first case. The husband, after this victory, brought an action against her for a divorce in Contra Costa Co., and she then employed Attorney John D. Willard, who has displayed much legal skill in handling the suit in all its ramifications. Upon his application the case was transferred to this county for trial on the ground that Mrs. Benson resided in the county at that time. She filed a cross-complaint in this action for divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty and after a long trial in this city, Judge Buck decided the case in favor of Mrs. Benson. The Attorneys for Carl Benson appealed the case with the result above stated. An interesting feature in this case occured last week, when Judge Buck sentenced the plaintiff, Carl Benson to jail for contempt of court for failure to pay $180, back alimony which happened two days before the decision in the wife's favor by the court of appeal.
